Many leaders in the fraternity world are on the Gettysburg College campus for the school's 21st annual Interfraternity Weekend which opens tonight at 5 o'clock.

While the pledges are holding their banquet, dinner discussion groups will take place at all of the chapter houses on campus. The theme for these discussions will be The Decalog of Fraternity Policy.

MORNING HOUR PROPOSED FOR MAY 30 PARADE AND EXERCISES

Gettysburg may change the hour of its Memorial Day services from afternoon to morning.

Members of the joint committee, meeting Thursday evening at the GAR rooms on E. Middle St., expressed themselves as favoring such a change, although no final decision was reached pending the final securing of a speaker and a survey to determine whether such a change would involve great difficulties.

Various reasons were listed for the proposed change including a belief that a morning hour for exercises would be more convenient for residents of the area who are planning trips during the day.

Weather, Tourists, Radio
Weather conditions also entered into the belief that a morning exercise would be preferable. Members of many of the organizations participating in the parade and services wear heavy uniforms, which are uncomfortable in the heat of the afternoon.

It was also felt that tourists visiting the community would be able to attend the services more conveniently if they are held in the morning. If the exercises were held in the morning, it was felt, tourists could attend the entire program and have the afternoon to tour the field.

The possibility of better radio and TV coverage of the Memorial Day exercises was also discussed.

See Traffic Benefits
Morning exercises would also decrease the "tie-up" of traffic caused by the parade, it was felt. Normally the flow of traffic through the town increases in the afternoon.

If final decision is reached to hold the exercises in the morning, the parade will take place at 10 o'clock, according to present plans, with the cemetery exercises ending shortly after 11 o'clock.

Suggest Changes At Cemetery

Another possible change discussed at Thursday night's meeting would combine the exercise in the center of the cemetery with the rostrum exercises. For years the parade has halted in the center of the cemetery for ritualistic exercises and the strewing of flowers on the graves by the children. Then the group has moved to the rostrum for the speaking portion of the program. Discussed favorably Thursday night was the possibility of holding the speaking part of the program in the center of the cemetery in connection with the flower strewing, at the same spot where the ritual is presented, so that the group would not have to move on to the rostrum before completing the program.

Final acceptance by a prominent speaker is expected by next week, according to a report at the meeting. A meeting of the general committee to complete other plans for the Memorial Day exercises will be called immediately after the speaker's acceptance has been secured.

Chairman Chester S. Shriver presided at the meeting.

Mark Twain commented many years ago on the value of advertising.

He told about a reader who reported he had found a spider in his newspaper. This reader wanted to know if that was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Mark Twain answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

America's three great religious faiths — Protestant, Catholic and Jewish — at this time are making their annual appeals for support of their world-wide over-seas aid programs.

Next Sunday, thousands of Protestant churches will observe "One Great Hour of Sharing," highlight of the United Appeal for overseas relief and reconstruction. Some local churches will make their appeal March 18.

On the same day, in Catholic churches, millions will contribute for similar purposes through "The Bishops' Fund" of Catholic Relief Services — National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Meantime, Jewish citizens will be aiding the needy through the current Passover Appeal of (Continued On Page 12)

Committee Slashes Local Appropriation

The Senate Appropriations Committee has pared from $25,000 to $5,000 a bill sponsored by Sen. Donald P. McPherson to allocate funds to a proposed state commission to plan for the celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Address in 1866.

Under terms of the bill, approved at the reduced rate by the Senate group, the governor would be authorized to name a nine-member commission to arrange for the observance.

The commission would invite the cooperation of Congress and the legislatures of other states in the proposed event.

As revised, the bill may be voted on finally by the Senate next week.

12 In Family Perish When Fire Destroys 2-Room Shack

OXFORD, Pa. (AP)—Twelve members of one family died last night in a fire that destroyed their two-room tar-papered home in this rural southeastern Pennsylvania community. An investigator said today "It looks like it could be foul play but we're not certain."

Deputy Coroner Ernest Schneider of Chester County, said a thorough investigation would be made in cooperation with State Police and fire officials.

The victims of the blaze were identified tentatively as the wife, children and grandchildren of John Twyman, a 36-year-old truck driver and a long-time resident of the "bottoms" section of Oxford.

Twyman, police said, appeared at the scene of the blaze as the last of the bodies of the Negro family were being recovered from the 20x30-foot home. Patrolman Claude Swift said Twyman was shocked into mumbling incoherently but told him he had just returned from Baltimore. Firemen were looking for Twy-

EASTER SEAL SALE IS BEGUN BY COUNTY UNIT

The annual appeal for funds by the Adams County Society for Crippled Children and Adults is being launched this week with the mailing of thousands of letters to counties with sheets of Easter Seals enclosed.

The seals are accompanied by a letter from the president of the county society, the Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church here.

With donations to be mailed to the society treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Evans, the written appeal for funds to help "a hundred crippled children in our county" follows in part:

"How Money Is Used"
"The Society depends almost entirely upon the sale of Easter Seals each year for the funds with which it buys braces, special shoes and other special appliances, often very costly, for these boys and girls who are so greatly handicapped."

"These Easter Seal funds help to send county children to summer camps operated by the state Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the money from the sale of seals helps take crippled kiddies to state clinics for checkups and for fitting or adjustment of braces that have been provided. "The society helps provide physical therapy treatments at the Warner Hospital and in a score of other ways tries to make life happier and more filled with hope for the children in our county who have been crippled from birth or have been maimed by accident or disease."

"We hope you will take this opportunity to help us in our work that we believe is so worthwhile."

Three-Day Celebration Will Include Smoker, Centennial Banquet And Church Service

The Pennsylvania Delta chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Gettysburg College, will participate in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the first chapter at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala., March 9, 1856. The local fraternity is planning a three-day celebration, today, Saturday and Sunday, which will include a centennial banquet Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in the Hotel Gettysburg with the Rev. Dr. William "Billy" F. Sunday '16, Brooklyn, N. Y., as the speaker.

First Northern Chapter
The first SAE chapter was founded by Noble Leslie DeVotie and seven friends. At the outbreak of the Civil War the fraternity had 14 chapters at southern institutions but only Washington City, Rho withstood the strife. Once again SAE began to organize new chapters as southern institutions were reopened.

On June 11, 1883, the first chapter north of the Mason-Dixon Line was established at Gettysburg College, then known as Pennsylvania College. A historian writing about the founding of the Pennsylvania Delta chapter said, "It seems almost impossible that a group of young southern fraternity men could look without malice to any expansion north of the Mason-Dixon Line. Putting fraternity above their environmental prejudice they agreed to venture into the fertile northern institutions."

Board Of Trustees
It was in 1910 that J. G. Holston, H. C. Hoffman and D. P. Deatrick, medical students and alumni of Gettysburg College, elected themselves to what was to be known as the board of trustees to secure a house for the local SAE chapter. The first appeal for funds sent to the 36 active alumni of the time was a failure but the first step had been taken.

Incorporated In 1911
Through the efforts of D. P. Deatrick, who was then serving as secretary-treasurer, Pennsylvania Delta was incorporated January 11, 1911. To secure funds, the brothers of the active chapter pledged themselves to notes of ten dollars apiece to be paid to the corporation. The practice is still carried out today by all new initiates.

About this time George M. Rice set about to secure a house for the chapter and with the aid of "Colonel" Williams, friend and counselor (Continued on Page 4)

FOUR DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED BY FARM BUREAU

Four members of the Adams County Farm Bureau Co-Operative Association board of directors were re-elected Thursday evening at the 22nd annual meeting in the Lower Adams Elementary School, New Oxford. Elected were Quinn Topper, Fairfield R. 2; Stuart Luccabaugh, Hanover R. 3; Kenneth Appler and Guy Sanders, Gettysburg R. 5.

General Manager G. Marlon Stambaugh reported assets of $261,636.40 with a total capital and patrons' equity of $260,322.28. Purchases by patrons totaled $762,598.64 in 1955 with a total net saving to patrons of $23,920.16. Feed led the list of purchases at $336,527 with gasoline in second place totaling $119,932.14. Tires and tubes were at the bottom of the list with a total purchases of $676.60.

President C. J. Waybright reported that total sales were $53,000 less than in 1954, one of the few years in which sales have dropped below those of the previous year. He attributed the drop to a reduction in farm market values and a disturbed poultry market. Feed sales dropped $77,000 in 1955 but the loss was partially offset by a rise in other commodities including a rise of $22,000 in fuel purchases. The present ratio of current assets to total liabilities is 115.2 to 1.

Traces Growth

Waybright said that fuel tanks and pumps are now available to members by paying a percentage on fuels purchased. He said bulk feed bins, granular fertilizer and irrigation will soon be making an appearance on Adams County farms.

Stambaugh gave a brief history of the county organization and the development of the New Oxford operation which was started in 1942. In that first year purchases at New Oxford totaled $66,200 compared with the 1955 total of $225,000.

Assistant County Agent J. David Naugle served as moderator for the 4-H panel. Members of the panel were Russell Grove Jr., Gardners R. 2, representing the agricultural clubs; Nancy Slusser, Littlestown R. 2, home economics club; Thomas Murren, Hanover R. 4, local leaders, and Mrs. Melvin Nace, Hanover R. 5, representing the parents of 4-H members.

4-H Is Supplemental

Naugle explained that there are 460 members in 31 4-H Clubs with 34 local leaders. "4-H is not a substitute for school, church, and home training, but a supplement. It helps to prepare young people for an occupation, family responsibilities and citizenship," Naugle said.

Grove and Slusser are junior leaders and have been 4-H members since they were nine years old. Mrs. Nace is the mother of four boys and two girls who have accumulated a total of 48 years in 4-H and are eligible for many more. Murren is (Continued On Page 2)

AUXILIARY TO PAY BURIAL OF COUNTY GUESTS

The Auxiliary of the Adams County Home Thursday afternoon adopted as "its Christian duty" the burial of guests of the home who are not claimed by relatives, church or organization or who have not made their own arrangements for burial.

Reports at the meeting indicated that for possibly one or two guests a year there are no arrangements for burial. Under state law the bodies are shipped to the Anatomical Board at Philadelphia.

Under the new plan adopted the auxiliary will pay $75 for the funeral. Interment will be in the county cemetery on Barlow's Knoll.

There was a lengthy discussion on suggestions to be made to county commissioners on improvements at the county home.

Use New Gifts
Mrs. Earl Diehl, East Berlin, chairman of the needs in the home committee, reported that mattress covers, dining room curtains and other items ordered by the auxiliary are now in use at the home. Mrs. Diehl and Mrs. Magnus Flaws made the curtains. Two plastic pillow cases were received as a gift.

Mrs. R. H. Powell, Gettysburg R. D., in charge of the sewing committee for February, expressed her appreciation to her committee and others for aid during the month. She displayed a number of articles made by the women guests. She expressed the thanks of the committee to the Presbyterian Home and Mrs. Bruce Weikert for materials donated, and to the matrons at the county home for their "outstanding assistance."

Give Benefit Show
It was announced that the South Mountain Rangers will donate the profits from their horse show July 7 at Guernsey toward the purchase of television sets for the guests at the home.

Plans for the annual Apple Blossom tour were discussed. During the trip the buses will stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Hughes at Guernsey for refreshments.

Mrs. Clarence Smith was named treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Russell Spangler.

Arrange Treats
Mrs. Henderson, chairman of the activities at the home, reported Mrs. Irma Keefe and a committee from the Gettysburg VFW Auxiliary visited the home Sunday evening and provided a treat of ice cream and cake. The WCTU gave its annual treat of oranges, bananas and cake on February 14. Lantz McClellan, Fairfield, Penn. Dairies, William I. Shields and Curtis Florio conducted a Washington's Birthday party for the guests and served cherry pie and ice cream. The February birthday party was conducted by the Ladies Aid of the Pines Lutheran Church, with Rev. Jack Gardner conducting a hymn sing and presentation of gifts to those having birthdays. Students from St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, visited weekly and provided treats. Students of the local seminary made regular visits to the home. Bought House in 1864
Describing his home which has a Civil War shell lodged in the north wall, he said, "Daddy bought the house right after the Battle of Gettysburg in 1864 for $400. There were only four rooms then and how he raised eight children in it I don't know. In 1890 he added what is now the middle section of the house and in 1913, the rear portion and added modern improvements. Before that we had a little 'house' in the back yard.

and a wonderful mother, too. She died in 1911 at 78. I'll be 81 years old on Sunday and I praise the Lord I am in as good health as I am. Dr. D. C. Stoner is my doctor. A wonderful doctor—I knew him since he was so high. Uncle Ed said with a gesture.

Worked At College

"All the family is gone but Anne and me," he said. Anne is Mrs. Musser, the youngest of the eight children and presently lives in a Gettysburg rest home. Uncle Ed is the second youngest of the family. "We were both born two years apart," he said.

Uncle Ed talked about the old and new world. "The old world was up until 1900. It was in 1889 that I worked with pick and shovel at ten cents an hour for ten hours work a day. I went to school on West Middle St. from 1881 to 1889. In those days milk was five cents a quart and eggs ten cents a dozen. It is a new world now." He was superintendent of the Gettysburg College heating plant from November 1, 1918, to November 1, 1946.

Commenting on his pipe, Uncle Ed said, "Best friend I have—never goes back on you. But I have many other friends too. Nothing like good neighbors. And I like to read the newspapers. I have been a subscriber to The Gettysburg Times as long as it has been known by that name. You work for a good paper," he said. "My idea is that if you like the work you do it is half-again as easy."

Goodell Sieber was a civilian employee at Camp Colt when Dwight Eisenhower was its commanding officer. He said, "I knew Col. Eisenhower in 1917. I had a desk right behind him."

A neighbor of Uncle Ed said, "He is very kind-hearted to everybody and always has a smile on his face." When the Times reporter left Uncle Ed's parting words were, "You come out in the summer and I'll make you a nice bouquet."

RALPH HINKLE DIES SUDDENLY

Ralph Elwood Hinkle, 78, retired jeweler who had spent summers of recent years with his son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Archie C. Rohrbaugh, in New Oxford, died suddenly Thursday afternoon in the Yackin Hotel, Salisbury, N. C., where he made his home in the winter time.

Mr. Hinkle was a native of Littlestown and was a son of the late John and Alveta (Crouse) Hinkle. He was a member of St. Paul's Reformed Church of New Oxford. He had worked at the Norman Ingle jewelry store in Salisbury and later had his own watch repair shop there. He had lived in Salisbury for 20 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lillian Arnold Hinkle; two daughters, Mrs. Rohrbaugh, and Mrs. Lee J. Gable, Lancaster; two grandchildren, and one brother, Hugh, New York City.

TEACHERS MAKE

how much the children of the Gettysburg area and education here are going to benefit over a long period of time from this conference, which has been held chiefly in your 'free time' hours," he continued.

He spoke of the current "re-birth and re-dedication" in the teaching profession and asserted that the workshop and its results "should bring this community at long last to a realization of the importance of the services being rendered by its school teachers." He saw benefits in "self esteem" for the teachers, too.

Re-do Curriculum, Enlarge Staff

With the re-education on discipline attracting so many teachers that it had to be divided into two groups, the teachers spent two hours on that topic while other groups talked over promoting professional understanding, the factors that make up the teaching profession and the fourth group discussed the learning process. Reports were made at the final assembly after supper.

Enlargement and re-education of the curriculum and enlargement of the teaching staff were recommended in the report from the group discussing discipline. Miss Alice Snyder presented the report, condensed from the discussions of the two groups.

More pupil and teacher conferences, special education in the grades and in the junior high school and the designation of an assistant principal in each division of the school system were other recommendations from that group that decided that disciplinary problems here "are similar to and in proportion to those of other school systems of our size."

Want Teachers To Vote

Some disciplinary problems here stem from lack of coordination between elementary and secondary levels, the lack of "proper and sufficient courses" to interest all pupils and the handling of senior and junior high school pupils in the same building. Forty-four of the 108 conferees were in the groups on discipline.

The group report on means of promoting professional understanding was presented by Mrs. Barbara Schadel. It suggested use of a teacher's handbook, more assistance to new teachers by older ones and urged the filing of teacher summaries at the end of each year, the keeping of a profile card for each pupil; favored more departmental or grade meetings of teachers; asked for a professional library with audio-visual aids and wound up by urging teachers to be "community-minded and to register as voters."

The report for the group discussing what factors make a profession was given by James Feather. It urged a teacher-visit plan between schools, the promotion of greater professional unity through more teachers' sessions and urged teachers to keep their "professional code of ethics in the forefront."

To Review Results

"Good teachers find reasons for pupils to learn the subjects they teach," the group on "Learning" stated in their report read by Miss Gertrude Little. For the exceptional student they suggested "horizontal instead of vertical growth."

The Professional Planning Committee, headed by Jack Corbin of the high school that handled the workshop Thursday will review results and will present report summaries at later teacher meetings. Paul Grove, local PSEA president, presided over the assembly sessions Thursday. Workshop instructions were given by Chairman Corbin.

All Women Invited To Cooking

School: "It's a 'must' for Page One." That's what the editor orders when an important story breaks and the management agrees that this story is important to every woman in the community.

The Gettysburg Times is issuing a Page One invitation to every homemaker — from brides to grandmothers — to share the profit of entertainment and inspiration of the enjoyable four-day Cooking School, which will be staged in the Hotel Gettysburg annex on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 18, 19, 20 and 21, beginning each evening at 7:30 o'clock. The doors will open at 6:30 p.m. Miss Ruth Bean is the home economist.

Carl Kane Improves: Carl W. Kane, county democratic chairman, is improving at his home, Biglerville R. D., after an attack of grip and a "touch" of bronchial pneumonia. He is confined to his home and had been confined to bed until Tuesday.

U. S. Backing Assured By The Seven Billions: (By The Associated Press) — Washington, March 12 — President Roosevelt sent to congress today a request for a $7,000,000,000 appropriation to carry out a "fixed policy of this government to make for democracies every gun, plane and munition of war that we possibly can."

In a letter to Speaker Rayburn, transmitting detailed estimates of the budget director for the $7,000,000,000 expenditure, Mr. Roosevelt asserted: "I strongly urge the immediate enactment of this appropriation."

Mothers' Club Buys Baby Shirts And Layettes For Warner Hospital: The Gettysburg Mothers' club held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. R. S. Saby, Carlisle street, Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Eddie Plank and Mrs. Ernest Ziegler, as associate hostesses. Mrs. A. R. Wentz, the president, presided.

Mr. Richard Brown gave short book reviews on the following: "Crusader in Crinoline," a story on the life of Harriet Beecher Stowe, by Forrest Wilson; "H. M. Pulham, Esq." by John T. Marquand, and "Oliver Wiswell," by Kenneth Roberts.

Mrs. D. Perry Bucke, secretary, read the proposed changes for the by-laws of the Adams County Federation of Women's clubs.

Gettysburg High Chasers Become First Southern Pennsylvania League Champion To Gain Honors: History was made Thursday night on the Dickinson college court at Carlisle when Gettysburg high's scrappy basketball team put on a dazzling exhibition of long distance shooting to nose out William Penn high of Harrisburg, 37-34, to win the District 3 championship.

This marks the first time in the history of the Southern Pennsylvania Scholastic League that its champion had succeeded in winning the district title. In the past the Central Pennsylvania loop representative has always topped the honors.

Today is 20th Anniversary Of Opening Of Warner Hospital: The Warner hospital passed today without special observance the twentieth anniversary of the day it first opened its doors to serve Adams county and the surrounding community. On Friday Patient No. 17,058 was admitted to the hospital.

The hospital opened on March 15, 1921, and the first patient, Lola Hartman, of Biglerville, was admitted two days later. The first surgery was performed on Gilbert Dickson, cousin of the chief surgeon, the late Dr. J. McCrea Dickson, on March 21, and on April 12 of the same year the first baby was born at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oyler. The child was named Philip.

In the first year the hospital cared for 540 patients, but over the 20-year period there has been an average of about 110 patients admitted every month.

The late Dr. J. A. Singmaster

Today's Talk

SIMPLICITY

One reason why there are so many people who are nervous, high strung and sleepless is that they complicate their lives with too many interests that are unimportant. To live simply is to give to your mind and body every advantage and opportunity for health and happiness.

The reading of "Walden" by Thoreau is a wonderful sedative. A favorite quotation is where he explains his reason for going into the woods, building his cabin (cost less than fifty dollars) and there communing with nature and her gifts and inhabitants, and trying to learn about the values in life, contrasting them with those which so many moved carelessly aside.

This is what Thoreau wrote: "Simplicity, simplicity, simplicity! I say, let your affairs be as two or three, and not a hundred or a thousand; instead of a million count half a dozen, and keep your accounts on your thumb nail."

How many of us could order our lives thus? Yet that is what Thoreau did, and he wrote a book that will be read for so long as books can be read!

The happy life does not call for complications, worry and imagined fears. Live simply; eat simply; think simply — in words that anyone can understand. Rejoice in your personal freedom, and do not mar it by confusions and with ghosts — that never yet have existed! Take books like the ones by Shakespeare and the Bible. They were written simply so that anyone who could read might understand them.

Feast upon all the beauty of this earth about you, glory in it all. Fill your mind with the wonder of it. Look into the heavens. Make friends with the stars. Have a sense of God about you always. He is in every flower and bird song. Keep Him in your heart. Live simply. It's the direct road to success and genuine happiness.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will write on the subject: "Security and Protection"

Just Folks

TAKING CARE

I'm a nuisance to my loved ones and a nuisance to my friends. Since on taking care the doctor says my future health depends.

When I take a friend to dinner she must guide me through the chairs. And be watchful of my safety lest too fast I climb the stairs.

Taking care is dreary business and a difficult command. At the table when we're dining I must sit when I should stand. And I mustn't get excited; mustn't share in any fun.

Even though I'm in a hurry I must walk and never run. There are various kinds of tablets I've been told that I must take.

And they keep me busy swallowing all the time that I'm awake. Is my partner fond of dancing? I must never leave my chair. "I am sorry," I must tell her, "but I'm busy taking care."

The dullest published volume that I have upon my shelf Isn't half as dull as I am being careful of my self.

Step by step I climb the stair, for of haste I must beware; And a man becomes a nuisance when he's always taking care.

to the chapter, a house at 117 Springs Ave. was occupied September 1916. George Walter Kessler and Rev. Dr. "Billy" Sunday had a big part in reaching the goal. Sunday personally gathered together $200 to be used as the "Emergency Rushing Fund" so that a "top notch rushing campaign could be launched the following year."

Another year rolled past and all that remained of old debts were a few notes and $500 loaned to the chapter by "Brother" Zimmerman. The notes were soon paid when a brother at a corporation meeting asked the privilege of paying off his old chum's notes. Another brother followed and in a few minutes all notes were written off.

Debt Cleared In 1921

In 1921 a voucher for $500 was mailed to "Brother" Zimmerman and Pennsylvania Delta owned itself lock, stock and barrel. At the Founder's Day banquet, with a host of the "old guards" cheering, "Whitey" Lambert and "Billy" Sunday touched off a toast to the first 38 years of SAE at Pennsylvania Delta.

At the St. Louis Convention of 1920 it was agreed SAE had grown to such proportions that a national headquarters was necessary. On December 28, 1930, the Levere Memorial Temple was dedicated and is still used as the national office of SAE.

Through Sigma Alpha Epsilon's first 100 years its membership has included such personalities as Sherman Adams, advisor to President Eisenhower; Bob Considine and the late Ernie Pyle, correspondents; Bobby Jones and the late Harry Agganis, athletes; and presidents of such corporations as Procter and Gamble, Campbell Soups, Armstrong Cork, Remington-Brand and the U. S. Rubber Company.

Other SAE brothers include Nobel Prize winner William Faulkner; George Horace Gallup, and the publishers and editors of the Washington Post-Times Herald, Reader's Digest and Town and Country.

As of January 1956, SAE had a total initiates of 93,484 with 139 chapters collegiate in all states but New Jersey and Delaware. In 1955 SAE had 2,946 initiates.

BULLETS NAME ALL-OPPONENT CAGE SQUADS

Temple, Lafayette and Muhlenberg dominate a 1955-56 all-opponent basketball squad selected this week by members of the Gettysburg College team. The Bullet players named Hal Lear and Guy Rodgers to their all-opponent first team, along with Bob Gall and Clint Jeffries of Muhlenberg, and Al Mantz of Lafayette. Lear, Temple's high-scoring guard and an All-American honorable mention, was the only unanimous choice.

Lear and Rodgers led Temple to two decisive victories over Gettysburg this season, while Lafayette's Mantz turned in a brilliant rebounding and scoring performance in the Leopards' 103-76 decision against the Bullets. Gettysburg and Muhlenberg split a pair of games, with Gall and Jeffries doing most of the damage for the Mules in both contests.

Little Sal Paone of Elizabethtown College was the top vote-getter on Gettysburg's all-opponent second team. Others named to the second five were Dick Shover, Lebanon Valley, Jack Ziegler, Franklin and Marshall, Ernie Peters, Lafayette, and Fred Cohen, Temple.

Players receiving honorable mention included Jim Radcliff, Stew Murray and Earl Werner, Lafayette; Hal Reinfield and Jay Norman, Temple; Frank Pettinos and George Bouvet, Navy; George Conrad, Albright; Hugh McIntyre, Western Maryland; and Jim Connor, Dickinson.

Williams Grove Cards 45 Events

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa.—Forty-five events, many of them "double-headers," have been scheduled by Roy Richwine to make the 1956 season on the Williams Grove Speedway the biggest in its history.

Richwine announced that both his half-mile racing strip and his Williams Grove Park will open Sunday, April 8, with the oval to be the scene of the renewal of the jalopy racing classics on that date. Action will be provided by the big cars Sunday afternoon, April 22, with the first race under sanction of the newly-formed United States Auto Club which replaces the AAA as governing body for auto racing. The same night a card of cycle racing will be run under sanction of the American Motorcycle Association.

COMPETITION IS HOT IN DODGERS FOR THIRD SACK

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

The competition for the regular third base job on the Brooklyn Dodgers is on in earnest.

Jackie Robinson said today, "Ransom Jackson will have to be a whale of a player this year to beat me out."

"I'll say this much," he added, "If Jackson does beat me out, then fine. I'll mean that we have that much stronger a team, and make us a cinch to win the pennant. I'll wish him good luck and be his substitute."

Robinson Is 37
"But Jackson will have to beat me at my best. My legs are strong and that's the main thing. I weighed out at 208 yesterday and I haven't been down to that since 1950."

Robinson, 37, is starting his 10th season with the Brooks. He batted only .256 in 106 games in 1955. He has, however, a lifetime National League mark of .314, third highest among the circuit's active players.

Jackson, who hit .265 in 138 games with the Chicago Cubs, has a .296 average for six big league seasons. The Dodgers got him in a winter trade.

Openly critical of Walt Alston at times, Robinson had some kind words to say about the Brooklyn skipper.

Bad News For Giants
"Alston's doing things right. He has competition going at almost every position and that's good. It's not going to be easy for me, and it's not going to be easy for Pee Wee Reese at short, the way the kids are playing."

"But I know there's a place for me somewhere on this club even if it's as a reserve."

Meanwhile, the Dodgers' arch rivals, the New York Giants, had some unpleasant news.

Ramon Montant, the Venezuelan right-hander who was being counted on as a starting pitcher, notified the club he didn't plan to play in the United States this year. He said in a letter that his mother was ill and he "didn't have the spirit" to pitch.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

JESUS INTERPRETS HISTORY

Luke 21:29-36

Key Verse: Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. Luke 21:33.

Jesus' life and work have been analyzed variously by different groups of men: historians, theologians, scientists. Theologians generally agree that Christ actually held three offices, those of prophet, priest, and king. However, as a prophet, He did not foretell the future except to explain the judgment and God's heavenly abode where men would receive their reward for righteous living. Instead His prophetic power was used to interpret God's will for mankind and God's hand in controlling human history.

Jesus, therefore, had a unique place in history — a central point toward and from which ebbed the tide of human affairs. In this lesson particularly, we catch a glimpse of the profound influence of Christ's position. We could not expect His contemporaries to recognize the real purpose of His mission. All they could visualize were the uncertainties that surrounded them as exponents of the new faith.

In order to bolster the disciples' confidence and to sustain them in this threatening hour Jesus delivered what is known as the apocalyptic discourse recorded by the first three Gospel writers and by Luke in Chapter 21. This discourse in Luke parallels that of Matthew and Mark but differs from the latter in actual experience because Mark wrote his account of the fall of Jerusalem and Luke wrote his afterward. All of these sayings of Jesus are genuine; the Gospel varies only in the setting given en and the emphasis made. Luke used every opportunity to contrast the best with the worst.

This discourse contained the portent of the destruction of the temple, signs of the second coming of Christ, the parable of the fig tree, the duty of watchfulness. How much of it was absorbed or understood by His chosen disciples we cannot surmise. But one thing is plain: the coming of the Kingdom of God will follow the troubles and tribulations as surely as summer will follow the sprouting of the trees.

... generation would pass away but the Jewish race ... Jesus Himself did not predict the time of final consummation.

This chapter which reminds us of Revelation and Daniel and Zechariah of the Old Testament is full of imagery. One admonition stands out sharply: the necessity for prayerful watchfulness. The day of judgment may come unexpectedly like a thief, so men must guard themselves that they be worthy of standing before the on of Man. And the universality of the final judgment is stressed. Everyone must give an accounting to His Lord.

In reviewing historical events which have occurred in the brief span of our lives, it is interesting to speculate on the course of history and try to determine the path of Divine Providence. Certainly these current pages of history reveal the hand of Satan too, for dictators have come to a violent end on the brink of political or military disaster. And these men wielded power and influence, but not for good. Questions properly arise as to the meaning of history. Does history move in cycles? Is it fundamentally a progression toward a goal? There are various schools of thought, but Christians believe that Christ is the focal point of human history and that God guides the destinies of people and nations.

The statement of Paul in 2 Corinthians 5:19 that "God was in Christ, reconciling the world to himself" seems to clarify the whole matter of the relationship of God and His Son in human history. Jesus came, conquered death, and

Woman Puts Damper On Official Visit

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton was at a loss for words when he stopped at the bedside of Mrs. Mary Vernor, a 98-year-old resident of St. Ann's Home For The Aged.

After he was introduced, the governor repeated his name several times. "I'm very happy to meet you," the Illinois chief said. "I'm Gov. Stratton."

With a twinkle in her partially-blind eyes, Mrs. Vernor gingerly replied: "Well, what about it?"

So many things develop from within, and so do we. The chick comes out of the egg, the flower from a tiny seed, the tree adds rings year after year to its outer core. Always it is the inner life.

And so it is with the heart of man. When the inner man is fed by God's Holy Word, the outer life becomes a joyful expression, a vital power that overcomes all obstacles and sweeps on to eternal life.

The Church nourishes the inner life of spirit so essential to outer growth and beautiful expression. From the Church comes the instruction and inspiration for happy, worthwhile living. Attend some church regularly, and see what a difference it makes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SPARKMAN LINE WOULD PRODUCE MILD CAMPAIGN

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This will be a pretty mild presidential campaign if the Democrats follow the line taken by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), whom they picked to reply to President Eisenhower.

It would go like this: "Clobber Eisenhower's aides but mix any criticism of Eisenhower himself with nice words; even praise him; make attacks on him more oblique than frontal; and blame him for sins of omission rather than those of commission."

The Democrats are in a dilemma with Eisenhower. And it seemed to peep through Sparkman's talk this week. He took to the airwaves in reply to Eisenhower's Feb. 29 broadcast dealing with his health and his running again.

Here's The Dilemma

This is the dilemma: How to handle a president who is so popular and has the widest sympathy and good will after his heart attack. Roughing up a national hero not in perfect health could lose votes.

By this time any other president, in office as long as Eisenhower, would be full of wells from opposition clubbing. There'd be no surprise in giving him more of the same when the campaign began.

But the Democrats haven't treated Eisenhower like that for most of his time in the White House. They have handled him as if he were marked: "Fragile: Use No Hooks."

Could Give Pros A Lesson

Eisenhower, no professional politician himself, could give the pros lessons if you accept this definition of a successful politician: one who gets much done he wants done while retaining maximum popularity to carry into the next election.

From the beginning of his presidency Eisenhower, deliberately or by nature, put himself above the rough-and-tumble of politics. Making no personal attacks, he has given others a minimum excuse for attacking him personally.

During these past three years angry Democrats may have wanted to hit Eisenhower directly but most of the time they aimed their fire at the men around him. If there were casualties, they didn't include Eisenhower.

Sparkman Phrases

Here are some phrases from Sparkman's talk: "Our political differences will never lessen... personal regard (for him)... We respect Mr. Eisenhower for the candor he has shown (about his health) in his report to the people... We thank him for his frank explanation."

Sparkman put his emphasis on Eisenhower's health, as was to be expected, since Eisenhower a week before had devoted his own broadcast to it. Sparkman indicated the Democrats will make the President's health a major issue.

Sparkman argued that Eisenhower, because of his health, couldn't be a full-time president.

Dog Drops Dead And Owner Asks $2,995

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 60-pound airedale dropped dead of a heart attack when two smaller dogs barked at him, his owners contend in asking for $2,995 damages for his death.

Playwright Myron C. Fagan and his son Bruce, owner of the dog, named Magee, brought the action against Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lee Smith. The Smiths' dogs are identified as a 4-year-old terrier and a 7-month-old mixed breed.

City Council Plans To Purchase Truck

The proposed purchase of a pickup truck and two lawn mowers was discussed at the recent meeting of the Taneytown town council.

A water main is closed at the extreme end of East Baltimore St. and Wantz's Development, the mayor announced. A break occurred during the construction of a sewer connection at the Brown Equipment Store.

The Fire Company has requested to have its name placed in front of the Maryland Municipal Building.

Officer Robert Koonz reported twenty parking violations, three traffic violations and two criminal investigations. He acted as escort for four payrolls.

Parking has been prohibited in front of the Post Office.

HOG — MASH — STILL

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP)—Pete, a 300-pound hog, was found dead in a barrel full of mash. The discovery also led officers to an illegal moonshine still. Officers found no trace of the still operators.

In a job that needs full time, Eisenhower, he said, has had to dump some of his most critical duties on his aides and must continue to do so.

JUGGLE LICENSE PLATE DIGITS TO SNARE ROBBER

NEW YORK (AP)—Painstaking juggling of a few digits on an auto license plate led the FBI to 33-year-old Arthur L. Paisner accused of the spectacular $188,000 robbery of a suburban Westchester County bank.

The FBI says the getaway car, used after looting the county trust company's drive-in branch at Port Chester, belonged to Paisner.

The federal agents said yesterday an unidentified resident of the neighborhood was able to recall some of the digits on the license plate of a car which roared away from a parking lot shortly after the robbery last Friday.

Try Combinations

The federal agents and local police tried more than 100 license combinations—containing the remembered digits—before one grouping led to Paisner. He was picked up late Wednesday afternoon in a Bronx hospital where he went to have a cyst removed two days after the holdup.

The license trail led to a Bronx garage where, agents said, they found $111,640 in cash in the trunk of Paisner's car.

Paisner and an unidentified companion are accused of kidnaping Mrs. Mary F. Kostolos, 52, a teller at the bank, the night before the holdup. She said two men drove her around all night, plying her with questions about bank routine and personnel.

Forced To Open Door

At the bank, one man took over after Mrs. Kostolos was forced to open the door. The lone bandit intercepted two male bank employees as they came to work. One of them, Purdy Ungemack, had to haul the cash loot—in a wastebasket and big cardboard container—to Mrs. Kostolos' car parked outside.

The bandit made off in the woman's car and later transferred to another auto.

Paisner, a horse trainer, is being held in $100,000 bail after arraignment yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp.

Says He Used Toy Pistol

Williams said Paisner told him he used a toy pistol in the daring, well-timed holdup.

The U. S. attorney said Paisner also told him he gave $55,000 to an accomplice. What happened to the rest of the money, some $22,000, has not been disclosed.

Advisers Attend Eisenhower Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of President Eisenhower's key 1952 political advisers reportedly attended a private White House dinner last night.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, confirmed that Eisenhower had "some friends" for dinner, but declined to name any of them.

Snyder was asked specifically if Vice President Nixon was among those present.

"I haven't got the list of guests," he said.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was known to be among those present.

One official said he understood the others also were drawn from the "hard core" of Eisenhower's 1952 political strategy group. Among them he named Presidential Asst. Sherman Adams; Atty. Gen. Brownell; Thomas E. Stephens, formerly Eisenhower's appointments secretary; and Walter Williams, undersecretary of commerce.

EASY TO REMEMBER

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP)—Liquor store owner Philip B. Brooks has no trouble remembering his new telephone numbers.

He just dials "P-H-I-L-I-P-B" to get his home number, PI 4-5472. The store phone rings when he dials PI 4 plus "B-E-E-R."

DISARMAMENT POLICY OF U. S. IS REVISED

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has drastically revised U. S. disarmament policy to meet what officials conceive to be the needs of the hydrogen bomb age.

Presidential Asst. Harold Stassen told a news conference yesterday he believes the new program will be more acceptable to Russia than was President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan for mutual aerial inspection of the two big powers when it stood alone.

In this respect, Stassen made clear, the United States has modified its position from that which drew Soviet criticism after it was presented by Eisenhower at the summit conference last July.

Flying To London

Stassen will fly to London tomorrow to coordinate new U. S. disarmament proposals with representatives of Britain, France and Canada in advance of a new round of negotiations with the Soviet Union there March 19.

The new policy, elements of which have been disclosed at various times, abandons the idea that substantial cuts in military manpower must be a primary aim of any effective disarmament agreement.

It concentrates instead on bringing under control nuclear weapons—A-bombs and H-bombs—and on cutting back such things as bombers and missiles.

Stassen said it also offers a

Lyman C. Daugherty, 42, ex-logger from Washington state, had three choices when a car blocked a crosswalk in downtown Des Moines, March 5. "I could walk around the front of the car . . . I could open the door and go through it . . . or I could go over it," he said. "I chose to go over it." With his logging boots on, he trampled across the fenders and hood of a car belonging to Donald E. Gebbert of Des Moines putting dents in both hood and fender. Admitting he may have lost his temper, Daugherty agreed to pay Gebbert $25 damages. Daugherty is 6 feet, 2 inches tall and weighs 210 pounds. (AP Wirephoto) method for reducing existing stock piles of atomic explosives even though the administration holds that it is impossible to police adequately agreements to reduce them.

The formula provides for contributing atomic materials to an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes.

Thus, even though the United States and Russia did not know the exact size of each other's nuclear stocks, each would know how much was withdrawn and therefore the amount by which existing stockpiles were being cut back.

Inspection Stands

Eisenhower sketched out the main elements of the new program in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin made public Tuesday. Stassen expanded on them yesterday with reporters.

One element which remains unchanged from proposals put forth during the Truman administration is insistence that an ironclad inspection arrangement is the first essential of any arms reduction system.

WESTINGHOUSE STRIKE DRIFTS ON UNCERTAINLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike drifted into its 145th day today with company, union and government mediators apparently all uncertain of what peace move to try next.

Company negotiators returned to Pittsburgh last night, saying they had no plans now for further bargaining.

A government-proposed peace plan submitted last Saturday was accepted without reservation by the company Tuesday but the union, refusing an outright yes or no reply, said it wanted somewhat better terms. The company called that a rejection.

Await Word From Carey
Officials of the federal mediation service said they had not learned from James B. Carey, president of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers, precisely what further concessions he wants.

The settlement plan was drafted by a three-man federal mediation panel which has said it will stand pat on its recommendations as far to both sides. The company termed its acceptance a "final offer."

Carey told reporters he wants 36 discharged strikers who are accused of strike violence restored to their jobs outright without recommended arbitration of the charges.

"Nothing More To Give"

He also insisted on greater assurances from the company against pay or work opportunity losses for workers who may be transferred from an incentive, or piece rate pay basis, to a straight day work pay system. The company said it needed certain latitude to shift its production methods from time to time.

Apparently now in dispute are the panel's proposals for a five-year contract with various reopening provisions, annual pay increases ranging from 5 to more than 17 cents an hour, and improved pension and insurance provisions before the strike began.

The walkout began last Oct. 17 and has run nearly five months, the longest major strike in two decades.

President Gwilym A. Price of Westinghouse said in an NBC telecast last night that the company "has nothing more to give" in contract concessions and advised idle workers to ask their union representatives "Do they want to settle this strike or don't they?" He invited strikers to return to their jobs.

GRAY LADIES BRIGHTEN HAIR

by VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Women are not trying to disguise their gray hair these days. The trick is to make it look attractive.

More than 20 million working women make industry and business conscious that they need them, their experience and their charm. Since the older woman is in demand these days why disguise one or many gray hairs? Most men do not. Why should women?

A great stride made in the hair coloring field is temporary coloring that may remove yellow discoloration from gray and white hair without making the hair look bluish purple. This affords the older woman a one-shade gray over her head — no black and varied shaded grays to contend with.

What's more if she doesn't like it, the color can be rinsed out.

Will Not Rub Off

A new color is touted as a come-alive-gray that won't rub off on combs, towels or bed clothing. Colors are prepared to run true from shampoo to shampoo, and do not contain peroxide.

If the hair is gray to begin with it may achieve a silvery tone. White hair can become a good pearl-white and salt and pepper hair may become a subtly smoky shade with these new hair colors. Hair is the one feature that the older woman must be aware of if she seeks a job. As women become older and dull, particularly if one strives to maintain its original color. But if hair takes its true course a woman may keep a uniform color all the while and look chic.

Other Charm Points

Other charm points for older women include these:

1. Wear dark dresses or suits in a good fitting line. Avoid gay large patterned dresses, although

Plan Farming Aids For Backward India

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois' committee on Agricultural Foreign Programs wants experts to send to India to carry out an extensive farm program there.

R. W. Jugenheimer, committee chairman, says experts are needed in the fields of extension, farm management, horticulture, plant breeding, plant pathology, soil salinity and micro-nutrition of fruits and vegetables.

College of Agriculture Associate Dean H. Hannah already is in India, heading up the self help mission from the University.

Small prints are good for spring and summer.

2. Try not to lose a youthful viewpoint, avoid a stern attitude.

3. Frivolous accessories are likely to stamp you as in the dotage period.

4. Beware of too youthful coiffure — pony tail, unusual chignon arrangements. Stick to chic head-hugging hair arrangements.

5. Shoes are a great indication of character. Study your feet until you find the right shoe for you. Avoid flat shoes if the ankles are large, too loose shoes if the toes are ugly. You'll find the happy-medium shoe just right for you if you pursue the idea.

During World War II, wine ran in the gutters of Marsala, Sicily, when Allied planes bombed the big wine works there.

Hundreds of millions of pounds of food, clothing and medicines - including U.S. surplus commodities - will go to victims of war, disaster and famine in many parts of the world through these greatest of America's voluntary overseas relief efforts.

Through them, great supplies of clothing will be processed and distributed, programs of resettlement, constructive development and other assistance for refugees will be maintained, tuberculosis and other health projects will be supported.

In this sharing through their houses of worship with needy persons throughout the world, Americans will strengthen the bond of brotherhood and friendship that unites all peoples for peace and good will among men, bear witness to their religious convictions and keep faith with traditional American compassion for those buffeted by circumstances beyond their control.

A locomotive on sled runners, one of the curiosities of railroad history, was built many years ago in Scotland for use over ice in Russia between St. Petersburg and Cronstadt. The front part of the engine rested on double runners which could be swivelled right or left. In the rear were two driving-wheels studded with sharp spikes. The engine is reputed to have run over the ice at a speed of eighteen miles an hour.

The present expedition to Antarctica, under command of Admiral Richard Byrd, brings to mind that a railway caboose accompanied Admiral Peary when he set out in 1899 on one of his several Arctic explorations. Peary, at that time a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy, asked an Erie Railway official for a caboose to use as a deckhouse on his ship, the Windward. The little crummy went as far north as Etah, on the coast of northwest Greenland, where it served as a winter quarters bunkhouse for men of the expedition. On its return from its polar adventures, the caboose was set up as a museum piece at the Susquehanna, Pa., railway station.

It takes a railroad man to show up the ladies in the crocheting field. A 210-pound railroad signal tower operator, Joseph Dolina, of Dunellen, N. J., won top honors in the 1955 nationwide crocheting contest. With the prize-winning tablecloth he entered, Dolina chalked up his second championship in the annual contest.

CHILDREN NEED SPARE TIME TO RELAX AND PLAY

By DOROTHY W. WHIPPLE M.D.

The Associated Press

Joan was 9. Her mother brought her in to me for a complete examination. "I don't know what's the trouble with the child," said her mother. "She is tired and cross, but she doesn't go to sleep when she goes to bed. She nibbles at her food and I think she has lost weight recently."

Joan did look pale and wan, and my records showed a loss of 4 pounds in the last 4 months. However, the examination did not show anything organically wrong with Joan.

I questioned Joan's mother about the child's life. This is what I found.

Joan got up at 7 a.m. with her parents. Dad had to be at work at 8:30. Joan never wanted much breakfast. She made her bed, then she practiced the piano from 7:30 to 8:30. Then she went to school, about a 15-minute walk.

Joan was a good student, but lately her teacher had been complaining that she wasn't paying attention in class.

At lunch time Joan helped serve the trays in the school cafeteria. This left very little time to eat her own lunch, but she wasn't very hungry anyway.

Her day coach is just twelve feet long. In 1921, well-known long-distance runner Arthur Newton beat the train by running the distance in eight hours. In justice to the "Mae West," it must be said that Newton had no stops to make.

M'SHERRY PARK HOMES PLANNED IN LITTLESTOWN

James B. Orndorff, president of Orndorff Bros., Inc., building contractors of Bonneauville, disclosed today plans for their new housing development in McSherry Park, Littlestown.

This planned community, located between the Taneytown Road and W. Myrtle St. Extd., within the Borough limits, will eventually contain approximately 50 modern brick homes in one-story Ranch and one and one-half story Cape Cod design. All will have the latest home features, finest materials and well planned floor arrangements.

The development plans include streets throughout the subdivision, 40 feet wide, five-foot sidewalks, sewer and water lines, macadam driveways, graded and seeded lawns, plus the added convenience of being "close to the heart of town with country spaciousness."

"Building restrictions are in effect that will make this development a most desirable place to live and insure lasting value for the homes to be erected therein," a company spokesman said.

Full Cemented Basements
All homes in the development will be constructed on a 10-inch block foundation wall, parged and waterproofed, and will feature full cemented basements. The oil fired heating system, perimeter type, will facilitate installation of air conditioning in the future, if desired. All plumbing will have copper tubing. Hardwood floors will be used with the exception of kitchen and bath which will be of Armstrong inlaid linoleum.

Knotty pine cabinets will be installed in the kitchen, which will also include twin bowl sink with spray, chrome trim, formica covered work area with splash board; chrome fittings, kitchen ventilating fan and other wanted extras.

The cast iron and vitreous china bathroom equipment with chrome fittings "will delight the housewife with its easy to clean features and beauty."

The expandable story and a half home or Cape Cod design is one of the features. The rooms on the first floor include two bedrooms with provisions for two bedrooms and bath on the second floor.

Three Large Bedrooms
The 23-foot living room, dining area is the focal point of the Ranch design home. Three large bedrooms

Fur Trapping Is Million Dollar Trade

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Fur trapping, though less glamorous than in the days of the voyageurs, still takes nearly a million dollars a year from the backs of the mink, muskrat, raccoon and beaver in Michigan.

Many of the trappers are farmers and their sons, who tend their traps after school.

The usual muskrat take each year is about a half million, the State Conservation Department reports. Muskrat pelts last year brought about $1 each.

Mink bring about $20 a pelt and Michigan trappers average about 15,000 of them a year. The raccoon kill averages about 150,000 yearly; the badger, 400, and the skunk, 2,000.

About 15,000 persons buy trapping licenses each year.

BILLY THE KID

SANDUSKY, Mich. (AP) — Police officers pulled Billy — a bearded goat — from the top of a 1956 station wagon, solving a list of complaints ranging from the goat dashing across lawns to trying to force his way into homes.

When last seen, Billy was nibbling merrily away at the rear door of the jail.

COHEN BLAMES SALES TAX FUSS ON REPUBLICANS

HARRISBURG (P) — Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen said today the job of drafting regulations for administration of the new 3 per cent sales tax is being complicated by hurried drafting by Republican lawmakers.

"The bill as written by the Republican Senate is improperly drawn and complicates both the imposition of the tax and the administration of the law," he told a newsman. "Nevertheless, we hope to have the regulations ready by the middle of next week."

Cohen said he was working with Secretary of Revenue Gerald A. Gleeson in preparing the new regulations which will provide specific instructions to retailers on how and what items should be taxed or exempted.

"We are seeking to make these regulations as fair and clear as possible but our work is being complicated by improper and hurried drafting of the legislation," he said.

GOP Drafted Law

The Justice Department usually drafts tax legislation. But since the Republicans took full responsibility for the sales tax, they used their own means in writing the law.

First Deputy Atty. Gen. Harrington Adams did not sit in on the tax discussions until Tuesday—the date the joint House-Senate conference committee sat down to iron out differences in the legislation.

In another development, Gleeson reported that Joseph C. Snyder, chief of the State Sales Tax Bureau since it was first created in 1953, will be replaced as soon as a qualified Democrat becomes available.

Snyder, a Republican, receives more than $8,300 a year in his post.

Tax Hotels March 17

"I would like to obtain an outstanding administrator for this post," Gleeson told newsmen.

Gleeson also announced that the 3 per cent occupancy tax on hotel rooms will take effect at 12:01 a. m. Saturday, March 17.

It will apply to hotels, inns, motels, tourist homes, houses or courts of lodging and rooming houses and "any other building or buildings in which the public may for a consideration obtain sleeping accommodations."

Hotel owners will be required to obtain a $2 license to obtain the tax. Applications for such licenses already are in the mails for hotels in major metropolitan areas.

Returns from the occupancy tax will be required from hotels on a quarterly basis—the first installment being due May 20.

DULLES ARRIVES AT NEW DELHI FOR TALK TODAY

By EUGENE LEVIN

NEW DELHI, India (P)—Secretary of State Dulles arrived in India's capital today amid hopes his talks with Prime Minister Nehru would bolster sagging Indian-American relations. But few expected any major change in either country's policy would result.

Observers were apprehensive that Dulles' role in the recent SEATO endorsement of Pakistan's demand for a U.N. plebiscite in the bitterly disputed state of Kashmir would have a damaging effect on the talks.

However, Indian resentment after the SEATO action appeared subsiding somewhat.

Indian Opposed

Dulles flew here from Karachi, where with the other seven foreign ministers of the SEATO (South-east Asia Treaty Organization) nations he agreed the future of Kashmir should be settled by a U.N. plebiscite or direct negotiations between Pakistan — a SEATO member — and India.

India has steadily opposed the plebiscite. Dulles, never popular in India, was the main target of

Set 17 Fires But "Couldn't Help It"

MEDIA, Pa. (P)—The trial of a young volunteer fireman charged with setting fires that caused $396,000 in damages ended yesterday after he testified he "couldn't help" setting 17 fires last year.

Edward L. Bogardus, who pleaded guilty to the charge, said he had hoped every time he set a fire that it "would be the last." "I thought about giving myself up," he said, "but then I would think that maybe I wouldn't do it anymore."

Bogardus is the son of Dr. James W. Bogardus, state deputy secretary of property and supplies. After both sides in the trial rested, Judge Arthur P. Brethrick of Delaware County Court set March 16 for oral argument before the full court.

VIOLENCE CONTINUES

NICOSIA, Cyprus (P) — Cyprus terrorists stepped up their campaign of violence last night, killing one person and wounding five others with bomb attacks.

The dead man was a 55-year-old policeman. Among the injured was the wife of a British army corporal.

Seven other bombings on the British island colony in the east Mediterranean caused only light damage and no casualties.

Indian papers. They viewed him as the prime mover for SEATO's Kashmir statement.

Concentrate On Aid

Informed sources stressed that the Dulles-Nehru talks would emphasize noncontroversial ways to improve American-Indian relations, with probably only passing reference to such continuing points of discord as SEATO, Formosa and arms aid to Pakistan.

The sources said Nehru and Dulles probably would concentrate on areas of agreement, particularly American aid to India. They speculated that this might include a joint reevaluation of the aid program to make the United States a greater partner in India's second five-year plan starting April 1.

SEES ROOM TO NEGOTIATE ON SENATE PROBE

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said today he thinks "there is ample room" for negotiation of a dispute over organization of a special Senate lobby investigating committee.

Other Republican senators also took the view that no unbreakable deadlock had been created by GOP insistence on what Sen. Bridges (R-NH) called "dual responsibility, dual control and dual authority" with the Democrats in directing the inquiry.

Bridges, senior Republican on the committee, said he had been in touch with Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) and that indications were a meeting of the group would be held during the day to try to reach agreement.

Committee Divided
Gore said he hadn't had a chance to confer with his fellow Democrats on the committee and didn't know how soon a meeting could be arranged.

The eight-member committee is equally divided between Democrats and Republicans and so far has projected $50,000 investigation cost by a party-line wrangle over rules of procedure. Gore carried the dispute to the full Senate yesterday, terming unwelcome the Republicans' proposed rules and offering to withdraw as prospective chairman. Bridges replied that the GOP proposals were fair.

Knowland told reporters he thought the committee should meet again and renew efforts to reconcile the rules controversy. Similarly, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas urged further negotiations.

Bridges said he had been in touch with Vice President Nixon and that Nixon "is prepared at any time to call a meeting when a readiness is indicated from both sides." Since the committee did not elect a chairman at its only meeting 10 days ago, it takes action by Nixon to call a meeting.

Suggests Giving Odds On Weather Forecasts

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—If Fresno meteorologists have their way, you soon may be able to get a "morning line" on the weather.

Chief Forecaster A. A. Lothman has proposed that the Weather Bureau be permitted to use odds-makers' terminology in making predictions.

Lothman's forecasts would go something like this: "There's a 50-50 chance of light showers today." Or "It's 6 to 5 there'll be rain before nightfall."

The odds would replace such familiar — and indefinite — terms as "probable, possible and likely."

Self-Educated Poet Works As Janitor

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP)—Dana Kneeland Akers is a self-educated poet who works as a janitor at Wisconsin State College. At 64, he is looking forward to less washing blackboards and more poetry and short story writing.

The Wisconsin Regional Writers Assn. awarded him second place for a short story in a contest which attracted 553 entries. His "Ballad of Jean LaBrie" will be included in a new book on "Wisconsin Folklore" by Professor Robert E. Gard of the University of Wisconsin.

POLICE PROVIDE DINNER
BORGER, Tex. (AP)—A group of Future Farmers of America got help from the police department for a feast of roast pig. Police officers chased the little porker through a residential district capturing it. When nobody claimed it plans were made for a big dinner.

The Senate, in creating the committee, directed it to investigate any improper or illegal attempts to influence senators or other government officials through lobbying, campaign contributions and other activities.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said if the special committee has not organized and elected a chairman by next Thursday, he will move to discharge it and let its investigating functions be taken over by regular Senate committees. These committees are controlled by the Democrats.
